New Music From Skyler Reed "I'm Gone" Out Now

OFFICIAL PRESS RELEASE

NEWS PROVIDED BY SKYLER REED

Skyler Reed is known for a good slow and mid-tempo tune, but she went in a different direction with this record! Joiliyah Melodygod produced a fire upbeat groove that prompted Skyler to pen just the right melody. "I'm Gone" is such a statement! Connect with the words and get inspired to say no more! No to anything that does not align with your truth! There's an awesome underlying message to not underestimate the beauty and strength of your own voice, and simultaneously let go with no regrets.

ABOUT

A lady of sophistication and musicianship, Skyler Reed, was born a singer. She is a classically trained R&B/Soul artist based in ATL. Her heart desires to perform, and the stage has become her home. Since her time in ATL she has established her music lessons business, Skyler's Music Studio, LLC, and has performed frequently around the city. She hopes to inspire and uplift through the words and melodies of her songs.

She studied vocal performance at Virginia State University and received a Bachelor of Music Degree. She took heart in the value of being classically trained, while still staying true to her own music. Shortly after graduating, she moved to Los Angeles to pursue her career, and made great strides. There, she performed in several operas and established herself as an artist. Skyler Reed is now based in Atlanta, and is constantly working on music. She has performed on stages like The Masquerade, Variety Playhouse, and Taste of Soul Atlanta festival. She has released several studio projects: "I Keep Dreamin...," "Movement of a Sunflower," and "Descended Crowns," and "Are We There Yet." Her latest single is "I'm Gone," which captures the raw emotion of being done with negative situations. This upbeat track encourages listeners and highlights the power of saying no.
